

He Has Risen

Intro

A A² A A A² A

Verse 1

Be - hold the tomb is bare! The man you seek is - n't there He has ris - en

Death could not hold Him down sin's curse has now been bound He has ris - - en and death

now has no sting new life is found in Him For

Chorus

Je - sus has ris - en Our sa - viour is a - live For

Je - sus has ris - en Sing praise to Him on high He has

ris - en He has ris - en

Verse 2

Verse 2

And though we stood con - demned His blood has made a - mends He has ris - - en

And ev - ery tongue will pro - claim the name a bove ev - er name He has ris - - en And death

now has no sting new life

is found in him For

Chorus

Je - sus has ris - en our sa - viour is a - live For

Je - sus has ris - en sing praise to Him on high He has

ris - - en He has ris - - - en He has

ris - - en He has ris - - - en

For a moment, put your self in the disciples' shoes. They have followed, learned from and lived with Jesus for the past three years - not only is he their teacher, but also their close friend. But suddenly, he is falsely accused by the religious leaders, beaten and put to cruelly executed by the Roman authorities. The future, which had seemed so promising, was pulled out from under their feet. But then, picture their joy as the risen Jesus comes into their midst. These men and women were totally changed by Jesus' resurrection, and they gave their lives to tell others of this great news. Now think about yourself - does Jesus' resurrection totally transform your life as well?